About Us

United Nations Volunteers (UNV) contributes to global peace and development through volunteerism. We work with the UN to integrate qualified, motivated and well-supported UN Volunteers into development programmes and to promote the value and recognition of volunteerism.

Our volunteers bring diversity, innovation, and a strong community focus to complement the UN workforce.

Explore the value of part-time assignments

Part-time assignments offer flexible support tailored to your operational needs. They can contribute meaningfully while balancing other commitments, making them ideal for roles that require intermittent or reduced hours.

Part-time arrangements are useful for:

- Roles with limited time requirements
- Seasonal support
- Specialized or advisory input

Benefits and entitlements

We encourage broad and inclusive participation, and as such ensure a variety of benefits to support a basic standard of living for UN Volunteers.

Entitlements:

Monthly living allowance
